

Fast Forward Film Festival

Showcasing New Environmental Perspectives

Call for entries!

The Fast Forward Film Festival

invites emerging and established filmmakers from the greater Rochester area to submit to the inaugural Fast Forward Film Festival- a showcase of independent short films that inspire a deeper connection to the environment. As an incubator for innovative thinking and artistic expression, FFFF encourages films that tap into the local experience, compel audiences to engage with the community, and raise environmental awareness.

Entry Details

NO ENTRY FEE.

Films of all genres and styles will be accepted, but must be under 5 minutes in length.

Submission deadline is February 27, 2015.

For additional entry and submission details, please visit www.fastforwardroc.org.

Festival Screenings

Selected entries will be screened at the Little Theatre to kick off Earth Week on April 17, 2015. Category winners will be screened at the Dryden Theatre at the George Eastman House on April 18, 2015.

#FastForwardRoc  @FastForwardRoc  FastForwardRoc

New York State
Pollution Prevention Institute

R·I·T

GEORGE EASTMAN HOUSE

Prizes

Cash Prize of $1,000 will be given for 3 categories:

- ◆ Most inspiring, compelling, and engaging
- ◆ Most unique perspective
- ◆ Strongest call to action

Festival Jury

- ◆ Enid Cardinal,
RIT's Senior Sustainability Advisor to the President
- ◆ Deborah Dickson,
Filmmaker and two-time Academy Award nominee
- ◆ Jack Garner,
Film critic and author of From My Seat on the Aisle
- ◆ Todd McGrain,
Filmmaker, artist, 2014 recipient of the Audubon Award for Art Inspiring Conservation, and The Lost Bird Project co-founder

An Initiative of The Lost Bird Project "Connecting more deeply with the earth through art"

100% recycled paper