

United Nations Association of Rochester

Presents:

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS UN Journalist Conference on Environmental Sustainability

Attend a global conference-an opportunity to meet experts and listen to reporters discuss our shared environment.

Date: 4 October 2010 ~ 8:30 am to 12:30 pm
Location: Strong Museum of Play~1 Manhattan Sq. 14607
Fee: $15 Adults, $10 Students w/ID ~ includes lunch
To Register: UNAR ~ 585-473-7286 ~ unar@unar.org

UN Invited Visiting Journalists:

Antigua & Barbuda, Bahrain, Bosnia & Herzegovina, Haiti, Mozambique, Russia, Togo, Uzbekistan and Zambia

Mayor Robert Duffy introduces local environmental issues and Dr. Nabil Nasr.

Dr. Nasr, Provost and Director of Golisano Institute for Sustainability at Rochester Institute of Technology, will lead off the conference with an overview of the UN Millennium Development Goal #7. He will focus on principles of sustainable development, loss of environmental resources, safe water, climate change and biodiversity conservation.

Participate in breakout sessions to examine how media effects local, national and international environmental issues in industry, government and education. Join in discussions about the crisis of environmental sustainability globally with UN standards with Dr. Nasr and UN Visiting Journalists.

SPONSORS

United Nations
Department of Public Information

Nothnagle Realtors

Partners in Health